

TOWN OF CALEDON: EXPECTATIONS FOR INDIGENOUS ENGAGEMENT FOR PROPONENT LED DEVELOPMENT

The Town of Caledon has reconciliation goals designed to establish and maintain mutually respectful relationships between Indigenous Nations and those that inhabit the land we now call Caledon. The Town has expectations for Indigenous Engagement on Development Application projects that meet the criteria outlined below. Within the Application process, you will notice requirements for proof of engagement with Indigenous Nations.

The Town of Caledon is part of the Treaty Lands and Territory of the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation, the traditional Territory of the Huron-Wendat, the Haudenosaunee, and the Anishnabek of the Williams Treaties. Caledon honours and respects Indigenous heritage, traditional knowledge and the long-lasting history of the land. In addition, Caledon strives to protect the land, water, plants and animals that have inhabited this land for generations and those generations yet to come. As part of Caledon's commitment to meaningful Indigenous engagement, we encourage proponents of development applications to follow these suggested best practices for Indigenous engagement on projects in Caledon.

WHY INDIGENOUS ENGAGEMENT IS IMPORTANT

Indigenous engagement is important as it promotes respectful and inclusive practices when working on projects that may impact Indigenous lands, treaty rights, resources, or communities. By involving Indigenous Peoples in the decision-making process, proponents can align their projects with Indigenous perspectives, cultural values, and sustainable development goals. Meaningful engagement fosters collaboration, mitigates conflicts, and achieves mutually beneficial outcomes for all parties involved. This approach recognizes Indigenous rights, interests, and knowledge leading to stronger relationships and sustainable project outcomes.

WHOM TO ENGAGE

The Crown has a legal Duty to Consult Indigenous Nations and representative organizations and can delegate procedural aspects of consultation to proponents. We recommend contacting the relevant departments within the following Indigenous Nations and representative organizations to begin engagement:

- Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation
- Six Nations of the Grand River
- Huron-Wendat Nation
- Haudenosaunee Confederacy of Chiefs as represented by the Haudenosaunee Development Institute
- Métis Nation of Ontario \(Region 8\)

WHEN TO ENGAGE

As per the Provincial Policy Statement (PPS), issued under the authority of the Planning Act, the Town of Caledon requires engagement on certain Development Applications.

The following is a list of applications that the Town may require applicants to complete Indigenous Engagement, separate from any required Archaeological Assessment:

- Official Plan Amendments
- Zoning Bylaw Amendments
- Draft Plans of Subdivision/Condominium
- Site Plans
 - Amendment, Full Stream

In addition, developers must undertake meaningful Indigenous engagement to fulfill any other relevant permit and approval processes under applicable Canadian laws, policies, and regulations.

HOW TO ENGAGE: BEST PRACTICES

Establish Engagement Expectations

- Engage with Indigenous Nations early to understand their expectations and build relationships.
- Seek feedback from Nations throughout the project's phases.
- Maintain regular communication and update contact lists.

Confidentiality

- Communicate with each Indigenous Nation individually, unless the Nation indicates otherwise.
- Do not share the views of one Nation about a project with another Nation, or in a public report, without prior consent.
- Inform participants if meeting summary notes will be posted to a public report.

Consistency

- Be consistent with engagement messaging. For example, identify a project by the same name in all communications.
- Use consistent formatting (or a template) for project documents to make information easily accessible and recognizable for Indigenous Nations.

Inclusiveness and Consideration

- Provide Indigenous Nations reasonable time to respond to requests, and to review and validate draft meeting summaries, such as 5 - 8 business days for meeting invites and 2 - 4 weeks for reviewing draft reports.
- Understand that it is common to have follow-up discussions using various methods of communication after initial engagements. Remember that this does not mean the project is more or less important to the Indigenous Nation involved.
- Where possible, maintain a single point of contact from your organization for communications with an Indigenous Nation regarding a specific project.
- Learn about important events for Indigenous Nations, such as celebrations, ceremonies or traditional hunting times that may affect the timing and priority of the Nation for engagement. It is important to avoid reaching out during significant dates like National Indigenous Peoples Day or Truth and Reconciliation Day or providing respectful space should there be a death in the community
- Provide key information that is directed to Nations as a courtesy, especially if the information is provided to the public.

INITIAL OUTREACH

DO:

- ✓ Copy appropriate Nation and Project Staff.
- ✓ Provide key Project details, such as
 - Project name,
 - Project location (with a map),

TOWN OF CALEDON: EXPECTATIONS FOR INDIGENOUS ENGAGEMENT FOR PROPONENT LED DEVELOPMENT

- A summary of project details, and
- Anticipated impacts of Project.
- ✓ Offer a meeting to introduce the Project.
- ✓ Provide contact information for further information.
- ✓ Follow-up.
- ✓ Provide attachments in an accessible file format, such as PDF.

DON'T:

- ✗ Address all correspondence to Chief and Council.
- ✗ Identify the project by a different name in different communications.

MEETINGS

DO

- ✓ Plan enough time for the meeting.
- ✓ Share an agenda and slide deck in advance of the meeting for the Nation's review.
- ✓ Prepare internally before the meeting.
- ✓ Turn on videos or have a profile picture if cameras are turned off.
- ✓ Begin with a round of introductions and give Indigenous Nations the opportunity to introduce themselves first at the beginning of the meeting.
- ✓ Allow Indigenous Nations to choose whether meetings are conducted in person or online, and to determine the location for in-person meetings.
- ✓ Build in time for health breaks.
- ✓ If the meeting is held in-person, consider bringing physical copies of the presentation.
- ✓ Consider financially supporting the costs of participation.

DON'T

- ✗ Assume meeting participants are familiar with the project and the history leading up to the project.
- ✗ Wait until the end of the meeting for questions.
- ✗ Promise what is not realistic.

ENGAGEMENT TRACKING

It is recommended to keep track of engagement activities with Indigenous Nations and representative organizations and maintain a record of all communication, such as:
